Navarre Minerals' survey to define copper and gold mineralisation at Victoria porphyry prospect

Thursday, December 05, 2013 by Proactive Investors

Navarre Minerals has started an induced polarisation geophysics survey over its Eclipse copper-gold porphyry prospect in Victoria.

Navarre Minerals (ASX: NML) has started an induced polarisation geophysics survey over its Eclipse copper-gold porphyry prospect in Victoria to delineate copper and gold mineralisation.

It follows-up on significant alteration intersected in Navarre's initial drilling program at Eclipse, including 276.1 metres at 0.3% zinc and 0.1 grams per tonne gold from 1.3 metres.

This was interpreted as an outer halo to a potential porphyry copper and gold deposit.

The copper and gold mineralisation is associated with a predicted porphyry occurrence beneath a surface footprint of 1,100 metres by 500 metres.

Results from the survey will aid target selection for the next phase of drilling planned to commence in the first quarter of 2014.

Eclipse prospect is one of four porphyry targets identified by Navarre within its 100%-owned Western Victoria Copper Project.

The project captures multiple, largely untested targets in 130 kilometres of Miga Arc volcanics, which is recognised as a continental margin arc setting like the Andes in South America, host to the world's largest known copper porphyry systems.

Eclipse is mostly covered by a layer of sandstone which has concealed the porphyry target area from previous exploration.

The survey is expected to help determine the extent, geometry and trend of the sub-surface mineralisation.
